

EMAIL FOR PARENTS TO SEND TO SCHOOLS

Subject: A wonderful initiative I'd love our school to be part of — Global Kids for Peace Project

Dear [Principal/Teacher's name],

I hope this email finds you well. I'm writing to share a wonderful initiative that I think our school community would love to be part of.

It's called the Global Kids for Peace Project, started by a 9-year-old girl from Cairns, Australia who thought the world could use a little more peace at the moment. And if kids start spreading peace now, maybe when they grow up the world will be a more peaceful place.

The project is live now and, on a mission, to unite 50,000 schools, classrooms and individuals from around the world in one powerful message of peace. May 14, 2026 is the global day of action, when schools around the world will come together to talk about peace and share their messages, leading into UNESCO's World Day of Living Together in Peace.

Here is how it works:

1. Register your school via the website — it takes less than a minute
2. Download the Peace Poster and have students sign their names across it
3. Upload your signed poster to the Peace Wall on the website any time before May 14th

That's it! Even just registering counts towards the global goal of 50,000 sign-ups, so there is no pressure. If you have time, we'd love you to go one step further by talking about peace on May 14th and signing the poster as a classroom, but simply registering the class or school is enough.

I think this is such a beautiful and age-appropriate way to connect our children with kids around the world and show them that their voices matter.

I'd love for our school to be part of it. Please don't hesitate to reach out if you'd like more information.
